

Memorial Day is here and that means summer is coming up fast! Are you ready to wring every last drop out of a warm three-day holiday weekend? In the spirit of summer, we've got some seasonal favorites to keep you happy, fed, un-burned and generally loving the season. The foods and goods listed below have the added bonus of being made by companies who treat their workers fairly. So grab an extra dog and slather on that sunscreen with reckless abandon. You will be helping to strengthen the middle class, and together we'll all fun and sun our way to a stronger America.
