

He-Gifts for the Holiday

For the manly men in your life (and on your shopping list), you can skip the linens and kitchenware aisles and proceed straight to the sporting goods and power tools. Stereotyping aside, we're pretty sure you know a guy whose heart will beat a little faster and whose smile will shine a little brighter when he unwraps one of the gifts listed below.

Here's another reason to smile. Not only are the items on this handy list ideal for the men in your life, they are made by ethical companies who give their workers a voice on the job. So fill up that cart, binge on the wrapping paper and help do your part to support good middle class jobs.
