The Coronavirus pandemic has scuttled most of the country’s summer vacation plans, but camping is still a safe option for many of us. As you pack up the RV and take to the road — or maybe the backyard — for an encounter with the great outdoors, remember that not all camping essentials are created equal. The products listed below are made by companies who treat their workers fairly and give them a voice on the job.

Enjoy your time outdoors, stay safe and let’s all work to build a stronger America.
