MAKING IT EASY TO SUPPORT GOOD JOBS

LOS ANGELES | SAN FRANCISCO | WASHINGTON, D.C. | PHILADELPHIA | NEW YORK

Most people watching the show will know about the big names: Javier Bardem, Denzel Washington, Nicole Kidman, and Kristen Stewart. But for every celebrity in a movie, there are hundreds of rank-and-file union members who are doing the hard work to make all the magic happen.

These behind-the-scenes workers belong to unions like the American Federation of Musicians, the Director's Guild of America, the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the International Cinematographers Guild, the Motion Picture Editors Guild, SAG-AFTRA, the Teamsters, and the Writers Guild of America, to name a few.

Every time you pay to watch a film — whether it's through a streaming subscription, a DVD purchase, or a trip to the movies — you are supporting good union jobs. And you can support other good union jobs during the broadcast — and during the movies — by reaching for union-made snacks and drinks while you watch. With that in mind, we've put together the list of products that go great with watching movies, awards, shows, you name it, so that you can support good jobs and companies that treat their workers with respect and give them a voice on the job.
